

Orphanage project benefits children in Iraq

St. Peter, MN - Members of the Social Concerns Committee of St. Peter's parish boxed school supplies for the Iraqi Orphanage Project. This project, supported by the spouses of local soldiers serving in Iraq, was brought to the attention of this committee by Sarah Jacobs, whose husband Ben has been in Iraq for six months. During August and September, members of the church collected school supplies and other items to be sent to the people of Ash Shamuli where they will be distributed by American soldiers. Sarah, who spoke to the Social Concerns Committee and shared pictures of the project, directed the packing of over twelve boxes.